Curriculum Expectation: 17

Canada is a country made up of 10 provinces and 3 territories

CANADA

Colour the province
or territory that you live in.

Each province and territory is considered to be a member of the federation of Canada.

Canada is a democracy, which means that the people of Canada choose their own leaders.

Canada is also a constitutional monarchy, which means that while the monarch (the Queen of England) is the "figurehead" leader, she does not have any real power to make or enforce the rules of Canada. Long ago Canada was a colony of England, but now an elected Parliament makes the important decisions for the country.
